BIO

Artist and Multidisciplinary Designer Lisa Moses has a dynamic practice that directly engages sites, intrinsic histories, and in-depth research, and her works manipulate dimensionality and scale. Rethinking and challenging artistic practices using biomimicry, Moses has developed an oeuvre that critically examines the structures of our environments and spaces while offering solutions for responsible communal change. Moses aspires to cultivate cross-disciplinary conversations that help to elevate people and their power to create lasting positive change with the goal of enhancing sustainability of our built and natural worlds.
